BATES ALL ROUNDER IS DIFFERENT

BREAKS ALL RECORDS

A BATES cannot be compared with any other lightweight, for it stands supreme in a class entirely apart. WE KNOW how hard it is to convince you that a BATES is best. We know that all makers tell you their machines are the finest—BUT—there is a difference—we justify our claims—as bold as they might be. AS CYCLISTS to cyclists, we want to positively assure you that finer, faster, or more responsive cycles cannot be built. A BATES, as you know, incorporates revolutionary designs and patents that no other maker can give, features calculated with the combination of vast technical and practical knowledge—knowledge gained in the light of 18 years' experience of satisfying the discriminating cluoman to whom a machine is more than a "bike." IT IS the working to such fine degrees of accuracy, the extreme precision essential, careful scrutiny and untimed attention paid to even the merest detail, the super filing and high finish, coupled with the Bates resources, the enthusiastic loyalty of well-paid expert engineers, the safe and sure "hand" methods, and personal supervision, that makes a Bates—well—a "BATES"—the ONLY really rigid lightweight.

cantiflex tubes

(made of 531) by virtue of their special design, provide "the only really rigid cycle." If a length of metal is supported at each end, then loaded, the greatest deflection and the greatest bending moment will occur at a point between these supports. Resistance to bending is determined by the section modulus, which is a function of thickness or diameter. Cantiflex frame tubes being slightly bellied midways of their length resist compressional, tensional and torsional stresses, and make a perfectly rigid frame unit, which definitely ensures that every ounce of expended energy is transmitted to the drive, and not absorbed by the flexibility so common in the ordinary cycle frame.
