JOHN MARSTON, LTD., SUNBEAMLAND, WOLVERHAMPTON. (125)

Will show sixteen of their latest pattern bicycles and two tricycles. The cheapest bicycle here is priced at £12 12s. cash. The £16 16s. Royal Sunbeam is the leading line, and is fitted with the well-known little oil bath gear case and two-speed gear inside the crank chain wheel. The little oil bath gear case has again claimed a good deal of attention, and recent improvements have even enhanced its value. The variable gear, free wheel, chain and the bearings of the crank bracket and hub receive a more copious supply of oil from the bath than was formerly the case. The patent system for removing a back tyre without interfering with the adjustment of the wheel or chain has proved quite successful, and will be continued as part of the Sunbeam patent disc adjusting hub. For riders who prefer two hand-applied brakes, the Sunbeam patent revolving lever back and front brakes are supplied. It should be remembered that revolving lever brakes, which are now so popular, were first fitted on Sunbeams. Owing to the desire of some Sunbeam riders to test a three-speed gear, a new hub, quite different to any existing three-speed gear, has been invented and patented by the Company. It is interesting to note that, like the Sunbeam two-speed gear, it has no shifting pinions. No damage can be done if the gears are changed while the machine is standing, and in the case of the cable breaking, the gear would be useable on the normal or middle gear. The three-speed Royal Sunbeam with little oil bath gear case will be £17 17s. The Royal Sunbeam light roadster tricycle, which is fitted with two-speed gear on the crank axle and little oil bath gear case, has a large sale among the class who still prefer the three-wheeler. It will be seen that the prices are practically as last year. This firm does not find it necessary to reduce prices, but considers it preferable to make the best article possible, and to continually improve it, rather than cut down prices.
