ACCLES AND POLLOCK JUBILEE
"HAVE You a Trumpet Handy?" is the title of a book produced by Accles and Pollock, Ltd., to mark the firm's 50th anniversary. As suggested by the title, the book is designed to feature some of the more interesting details of this well-known company. But more than that, it is a fascinating story of the care taken in specialized production of tubing, not only for bicycles but for such widely divergent purposes as aeroplane bodies and javelins. The light-hearted approach that has been a feature of advertisements by this company is continued in this book.
